Site Recommendation

<http://climexp.knmi.nl/start.cgi?someone@somewhere>

This site is a meta data-clearing house as part of the WMO at the KNMI (Koninklijk Nederlands Meteorologisch Instituut). It provides both gridded and station data from a variety of sources across the globe (e.g. GHCN). Data is can be found at daily, monthly and annual resolutions. I find myself using it primarily when I need to quickly look up numbers as it has a friendlier interface than most primary sources of climate data online.
